A diagram for USMLE step 1 illustrating the Herpes Simplex Virus. On the left is a large, detailed illustration of the virus particle, showing its characteristic hexagonal capsid with a double-stranded DNA genome inside, surrounded by a tegument and an envelope with glycoprotein spikes. Arrows point from the virus to two stages of infection on the right. The top stage is labeled 'INFECTED' and shows a 'Finger' with an 'Early stage' lesion (a small red bump) and a 'Later stage' lesion (a larger, more pronounced red bump). The bottom stage shows a 'Genital' area with a 'Genital lesion' (a red, open sore) and a circular inset showing a microscopic view of the virus particles. The text 'USMLE step 1' is in yellow and white, 'Herpes Simplex Virus' is in large red and blue letters, and 'High Yield' is in white on a yellow background. The 'Animated Biology' logo is in the bottom left corner.

I told a friend about ivy to treat and prevent covid so he started taking 12mg tabs once a week. To his amazement it cured his herpes, which he had carried around for years like luggage! They should do trials with ivy on herpes since 50% of the population have it!

I want to be very clear that I'm a "follow the science" guy. But I just want to say that since I've started eating ivermectin, my herpes flare-ups seem to have less hate in their hearts.

I had the herpes virus causing "cold sores" since I was a small child that appeared whenever I was highly stressed or very run fawn. It lasted until last year when I went on a 3 day course of ivermectin and since no matter how run down or getting sick I have not had a cold sore since. Yes there are many cutes out there that either doctors don't know or are stopped from prescribing meds that would cure the disease

On a whim I used ivermectin paste on prodromal tingling of a coming herpes simplex virus 1 ("fever blister) after shaving too close at lip & it stopped it dead in its tracks. Didn't even blister. We need a good RCT study to prove causation over correlation! Genital herpes (HSV-2) too?

My girlfriend always used to have herpes on the lips, like once a month. Then she started to use horse paste ivermectin as herpes cream. It quickly goes away and after she started using it a couple of years back, i think it only came back once or twice and no more.. Its also the only thing that helped with turbo head lice that we now get from kids often..

Try Ivermectin. It is 100% safe and it is commonly given for psoriasis and rosace. You have nothing to lose and everything to gain. You just buy it at the local feed store it looks like this.....

After taking care of my 98-year-old father in an assisted living during COVID I actually probably came in contact with a lot of newly vaccinated people and I very possibly obtained some shedding. I did never come down with COVID but I did get shingles and I got it very very badly. And I think the reason that I got it is because the shedding caused me to have some immune deficiencies that activated that shingles. The first couple of times that I had shingles it was exceedingly painful and the medical community was absolutely useless. Then I discovered Ivermectin. Ivermectin is commonly used for a great many things from cancer to cold sores. It's just that simple. And so I bought some and at the very first sign of an episode which presents itself very much like the onset of a herpes cold sore, I would take one doses of the ivermectin one day apart. It only took 2 days to kick it completely. And now I haven't had to recurrence for almost 8 months.

Give it a try. Dosage from that particular type of tube with its own applicator is approximately a fourth of a teaspoon mixed into some applesauce. But for your son he would want to put a very very very thin coat of it on his skin area. Just once a month.

I think ivermectin can cure herpes too. A friend strangely came down with herpes after her second vax along with covid. I dropped off ivermectin, Zpack and D, Zinc and magnesium. The herpes has not reappeared since. So maybe.

Herpes can be put into remission by ivermectin... It's parasite related. After reading this, experimented on my mom who got cold sore... put ivermectin on it and within 24hrs was a tiny little scab. Viruses are present in parasites.

I have heard/read that viruses are basically parasites. I recently took ivermectin when I had an herpes outbreak, and it cleared faster than usual. I did also use oral zinc/quercetin to inhibit replication, as well as topical zinc. Next time, I'm going to try just ivermectin.

Don't do the shingles one - if you do get shingles it's not like you can't treat it effectively - you know what treats it? Ivermectin. Both internal and topically. It works on all herpes viruses I think, totally stopped a cold sore in its tracks - twice.

Ivermectin has a broad anti-viral action, so this effect on Herpes Virus is real.
